

Want to Create Transformational Change in your Community, Church or Business?

Attend “When Heaven Meets Earth: A Creation Care, Conflict Management and Sustainability Practicum”

Sponsored by The Center for Law and Culture at Olivet Nazarene University

This one-day practicum will explore the application of transformational change catalyst principles and biblical principles of stewardship, conflict management (reconciliation) and sustainability to an environmental conflict in the Chesapeake Bay and a racial and environmental conflict in the Delaware Bays. The practicum is based on Emmerich’s faith-based stewardship and reconciliation work on Tangier Island shown in her film When Heaven Meets Earth: A Faithful Few Changed Everything and her racial reconciliation work in Berlin, Maryland shown in her trailer film “Minority Outreach in Berlin, MD.” Emmerich will also share the application of the principles to her workforce and leadership development work with the CHEE (Coalition for Hope and Excellence in Education) and BASF in Kankakee. Participants will learn methods and principles immediately applicable to their communities, businesses and churches.

Instructor Dr. Susan Emmerich

Location Olivet Nazarene University, Room: Weber 204

When October 28, 8:30 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Enrollment Open to students, faculty and the public.

Cost With the Richard Acker Creation Care Scholarships, we can offer this practicum at a very low price of $20 for students and YFC ministry workers; $40 public; $95 faculty and corporate.

Registration Deadline September 25, 2017

Syllabus See back. Registration See back.

Questions? Contact the Center for Law and Culture at 815.928.5552 or lawandculture@olivet.edu.

The Center for Law and Culture

Olivet Nazarene University, 1000 University Avenue, Bourbonnais, IL 60914
Phone: 815.928.5552 | www.lawandculture.org | lawandculture@olivet.edu

When Heaven Meets Earth:
Creation Care, Conflict Management and Sustainability Practicum
Sponsored by The Center for Law and Culture

Participants will learn methods, approaches, and principles for instituting transformational change and conflict management including participatory action research, inter-cultural communication, interpersonal ethnography along with the application of these approaches to two case studies involving environmental and racial conflict.

Morning:

8:30 - 9:30 a.m. Principles for environmental stewardship, conflict management and sustainability for transformational culture change
9:30 - 10:20 a.m. Viewing of When Heaven Meets Earth DVD.
10:20 - 10:30 a.m. Q and A: begin group discussion of questions
10:30 - 10:40 a.m. Break
10:40 - 11:30 a.m. Continue group discussion
11:30 - 12:15 p.m. Methodological keys to successful transformational culture change
12:15 - 12:45 p.m. Lunch

Afternoon:

12:45 - 1:45 p.m. Methodological keys continued
1:45 - 2 p.m. Introduction to Berlin, MD Case Study of environmental and racial conflict
2 - 2:45 p.m. Breakout groups and discussion
2:45 - 2:55 p.m. Break
2:55 - 3:35 p.m. Groups presentations
3:35 - 3:45 p.m. Viewing of Berlin, DVD
3:45 - 4 p.m. Feedback on Practicum

Those interested in enrolling in "When Heaven Meets Earth: A Creation Care, Conflict Management and Sustainability Practicum" should complete this form and provide a check for $20 (student/ YFC ministry rate), $40 (public rate) and $95 (corporate and faculty rate) made payable to the Center for Law and Culture. Mail to: The Center for Law and Culture, Olivet Nazarene University, 1000 University Avenue, Bourbonnais, IL 60914.

Name: _____
Last First Middle Initial

Address: _____
Street City State Zip Code

Cell Phone: _____ Other Phone: _____

E-Mail: _____

College (if applicable): _____

Major (if applicable): _____ Minor (if applicable): _____

Dietary Restrictions; list is applicable: _____